

The Cervantes Group Press Release

The Cervantes Group's Shari Scalon is promoted in record time

Boston – October 4, 2022

Shari Scanlon started working at The Cervantes Group in November of 2021 and within the year she became the Lead Client Delivery Advisor of the whole group. According to Will Stephens, Senior Director that manages Shari, “I remember thinking, is this possible? She learned so quick. She executed. She is very efficient. I am privileged to work with her.” According to the Managing Partner, Tim Mullen, “Shari is amazing. She is just as advertised from many people in the industry. Smart. Effective. Team-oriented. A real people person. I think what most surprises me is how she builds global networks in one conversation. She plays chess every day and has strategically aligned herself with some excellent people in the north and south; from Chicago to Boston and throughout Puerto Rico and she has been seen now crossing borders into Mexico.”

According to Jorge “Georgie” Resto, Chief Strategy Officer, “moving Shari dedicated into this Lead Client Delivery specific role is at such a pivotal time because we have so much more to do and we are currently having our strongest year in our entire 18-year history. The Cervantes Group has been growing so fast with three-year growth over 156%, three new office openings in Kansas City, Jacksonville and Dayton. I mean, we barely have had time to sit down.” Joanna Bauza, President, added “our goals are to continue our global expansion efforts with new customers, utilize to the fullest our new SaaS that we built and I am so proud of our Puerto Rico office too because Shari has been so busy working with that market creating many Technology Development and QA PODS. 2022 is moving so fast but Shari has been a breath of fresh air to all around her.” ##
