

The Cervantes Group Press Release

“Where there is a WILL, there is a WAY”

Boston - May 7, 2023

The Cervantes Group is proud to announce that Will Stephens has risen to Vice President of Global Operations. “This role is pivotal for our company. Someone who has the business background, understands customer success, technology solutions, and back-end operations - all in one role”, stated Joanna Bauza, President & Co-Founder. “Will tracks the sales group and our corporate deliverables across three continents and bridge the gap of time zones, currencies, and cultures. Basically, he is like James Bond for our company” expressed Timothy Mullen, Co-Founder and Managing Partner.

Stephens will be responsible for the continued substantial business operational growth in the Financial, Healthcare, and Technology sectors and leveraging capabilities, teams and global client efforts across Mexico, Spain and across the US and Puerto Rico. In his previous role of Sr. Director, Stephens successfully added multibillion Global 100 leader clients to the portfolio and has since added two others. He was responsible for the overall strategy of each account in addition to the solutions delivery. “He is a rare breed. Understands the technology offerings behind the business needs and he truly gets to know people at a baseline level. He is very competent; it is a pleasure working with him,” declared Mullen.

“My team and I work our hardest and try our best and that is all I can say. The people we work with make up our communities and we have worked very hard to create that here” avowed Stephens. He added, “there is a lot of work to do, I will never stop helping both people and companies achieve their goals no matter what.”.
